A stone statue of a cherub, likely a putto, stands in a garden. The cherub is depicted from the waist up, holding a large bouquet of roses in its right hand. The statue is weathered and has a greyish-brown patina. The background is a lush garden with green foliage and a white building visible in the distance. The lighting is soft, suggesting a late afternoon or early morning setting.

A close-up, shallow depth-of-field photograph of a stack of three books. The books have light brown, textured spines. The top two books feature the Greek letter Omega (Ω) in white, and the bottom book features the Greek letter Theta (Θ) in white. The books are resting on a dark, polished wooden surface. In the background, a blurred image of a classical building with columns is visible. The text 'RIEPILOGO SUMMARY' is overlaid on the right side of the image.

A close-up photograph of classical architectural moldings, likely made of stone or plaster. The image shows several decorative elements: a prominent egg-and-dart molding in the upper left, a series of repeating fluted or scalloped patterns in the center, and a more complex, possibly foliate or shell-like carving on the right. The lighting is soft, highlighting the textures and three-dimensional quality of the carvings.
